Mrs. Esther Reiley, 6130 Sligo Mill Rd. N.E. Washington D.C. 20011 (Letter of 3-13)
 As many of the readers of the N-L may have seen the Candlelight Tours of the White House at Christmas time on T.V. or in the newspapers, I wish to add a note to the beauty which was displayed on the tour arranged for Retired Employees in Washington and vicinity. They were transported by buss and enjoyed the various rooms in their Christmas decorated grandeur in addition to gorgeous poinsettias placed in hallways, etc. Two huge trees were decorated outside the main entrance and the tree in the Blue Room which reached from floor to ceiling had 1500 bulbs in addition to the old fashioned decorations. The Marine Band String Ensemble played for the visitors in the front hallway.

On January 18th I was included in a group of ladies who were invited to have tea with Mrs. Nixon and a leisurely tour of the White House. The Presidents wife was most gracious and greeted each one at the reception. Delightful refreshments were served and we sat in the newly decorated Green Room, then the Red Room and East Room. New additions in library and other rooms were shown us by an Aide. There was one stationed in every room to be of assistance in answering questions. (Cont'd)

Mrs. Esther Roilly continued:

A recent addition to the displays were gowns and decorations which Mrs. Nixon received on her recent trip to Ghana, Liberia, and the Ivory Coast. They proved to be most interesting. That afternoon will be a fond memory for me!

Jackie and Nester Hackenberg, R#1, Middleburg, Pa. 17842

We are all fine and are planning to see you over Labor Day week-end if everything goes well. We just had to cancel our vacation because of the terrible flooding conditions around us. We were planning to go to Phila. Pa. to my Niece and on to the shore in N.J. but I don't think any community around has been untouched by the flood. We ourselves are not affected directly but in every direction you must go is flooded and also supplies could not come in.

About the Leightey Families-

On May 27th our son Howard and wife Dorothy took your editor and wife for an overnight visit with Mrs. Alice Dossos near Cadiz, Ohio, which we really enjoyed. We also had a preview of the Lodge where our National Shambaugh Reunion will be held on Sept. 3rd. Plenty of room for all the families that will come.

We also called on Anna Cogsil and a couple of Alice's daughter in that area. Then on June 17th, Howards took us to Sea World, at Aurora, Ohio; a smaller Cypress Gardens and Marineland of Florida. Dolphins, Killer Whale, Skiing, Kite Flying, etc. A very enjoyable Father's Day outing.

On July 15th Howard and Dorothy went South for a weeks vacation stopping in Nashville, Tenn. a couple of nights with a cousin, then through Mississippi to Houston and Galveston, Texas, and other southern states. An overnight visit with Mary Alice Dantzler and others in Rossville, Ga. on way home.

Their daughter Rita and Harvey Stansbery, with sons Russell and Wade spent a weeks vacation thru the western states to Arizona.

Another daughter, Linda and Monte Southward, with children Justin, Jeff, Jodi and Jack spent a week at Niagra Falls and thru the New York State area.

Dean Leightey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leightey, was home for a few days in June from his base at Mare Island near Vallejo, Calif.

Another of Waynes sons, Douglas, arrived in the states July 22nd from Guam and is spending a few days at home.

ALL who have not yet sent in your change of addresses for the Directory Supplement please send them to me now, also send husband name with middle initial, and wife name as we have a few listed with same husbands name, as - Robert F., Robert J., Robert L. and just Robert, all Shambaughs, and others, so with given name and middle initial and wifes name too, you are much esier identified.

If you have changed addresses, please send along the old one, along with the new address, and don't forgot the ZIP, as it is almost impossible to identify some who have moved recently, unless we can have the old address removed from the Directory.
