PASTOR RETIRES, BUT WORKS ON - - From the Des Moines Tribune, Feb. 1, 1965

BOONE? IOWA - The Rev. Harry W. Gleim, 77, who was ordained by the Methodist Church at 64 after two successful previous careers, continues as supply pastor for two Boone County churches - although he formally retired five years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Gleim was the son of a pioneer Iowa purebred Holstein dairy farmer near Arlington. Graduating from Arlington High School, the future minister had two years of dairy industry courses at Iowa State Univ. before setting up his own herd. Later he set up a purebred Holstein pedigree and sales organization, also acting as secretary of the Iowa Holstein Breeders Assn. for three and one half years. He associated his business with the Hainy Publishing Co. of Webster City, publisher of livestock journals. "I wrote the catalog for a Minnesota livestock sale at which the Holstein bull Carnation King Sylvia brought $106,000 - then the highest price ever paid for a bull", the Rev. Mr. Gleim said.

Shifting to another career in 1926 to the Ft. Dodge YMCA for two years, then to Burlington YMCA for four years, then back to Ft. Dodge until 1946. Then accepted a call to the ministry at Hardy Nebr., also studied theology in summer school sessions at the Perkins Seminary in Dallas, Texas.

The ministers first wife, the former Jessie Simpson died in 1951. Several years later he married Mrs Frank Creamer, a Waukon widow. In 1954 Rev. Gleim filled two pulpits of Ong and Eggar, Nebr. whose members lived in a 200 square-mile area, having a 30 mile trip each Sunday.

Returning to Iowa in 1957 and preached at the Dike Methodist Church for three years, then moved to Boone, and serves the Mackey and Mineral Ridge churches, driving many week - day miles visiting members in an area from Story City to Pilot Mound.

Meanwhile, has given devoted care to Mrs Gleim who is seriously ill.

Herman, Helene and Patricia Shambaugh, 441 Kenwood Drive Euclid, Ohio 44123

I see some action is being taken toward producing a Family History, I hope it succeeds and carries out more than is listed in the letter, (#32). So far I am waiting to see the results of progress.

Mrs Sally Shambaugh McCammack, Box 83, New Market, Ind. 47965

The last of January my Granddaughter, Sally McCary of Wash. Univ. in St. Louis, visited me, she is doing fine in her architecture. Her sister, Sandy, is at Ball State College in Muncie, Ind. studying to be a teacher.

Ensign, William Lathouse and wife Charlene are still in Honolulu.

My husband Clarence, has been doing carpenter work this winter, he stays well, and I am better since my very high blood pressure of last summer, but have it down some now, for which I am thankful. I am happy that the Shambaugh's are interested in the family. I may later join the "Shambaugh International" for I sure am interested in all that you or any one else does along family lines.

Rev. Guy H. and Anna Mae Kintzof 886 N. Central Ave. Richland Center, Wis.

We have five inches of snow on the ground (Jan 29th.) and it is pretty cold up here this morning, the coldest we have had, 25 degrees below Zero.

You (editor) stated that you had ten grand children and six great grand children (also seven step greats). I had a funeral recently of a lady that had 35 grand children and 62 great grand children, no wonder our population is growing.

R. M. and Marjorie Shambaugh, Serena, Ill.

It has been interesting to me to read of the many people who are connected with the Shambaugh family, although I haven't as yet found any trace of a connection to my immediate family.

My wife and I spent two weeks in Phoenix, Ariz. at Christmas time, and even though we didn't contact any Shambaugh's during our travels, I did note that there are some Shambaugh's listed in the Phoenix telephone directory.

Keep up the fine work with the N-L and perhaps one of these times I will find some of my family ties through this media. (Ed. -Why not take a sight-seeing vacation to Chattanooga and Lookout Mt. this fall, and attend the reunion too. Sept. 5th.

Mrs Bertha Knoerr, 815 Demerius St. Apt. M 4, Durham, N. Carolina 27701

After spending ten months with my son Donald and family in Canada, I have located permanently (I hope) near my son Kenneth's family in the warmer state of N. C.

I plan to return to Iowa this summer for the reunion at Arlington, and a visit with my sister, Mrs Alma Ross. I will consider the Shambaugh International Org..
